

Woodford Golf Club

Intermediate Membership Scheme

If you can play golf, but are not sure about joining a club...

Woodford Golf Club is launching an intermediate membership scheme.

It is valid for 12 months, and costs £400 (compared to our current £911 for full 7-day membership).

It is open to golfers of any standard (beginners should consider our beginners scheme first).

You can get a club handicap, but should you choose not to become a full member at the end of your intermediate membership period that handicap would lapse. On joining as a full member, you can get an official handicap.

You will have full use of our club facilities, including the bar, and access to our good social calendar, and can play golf at any time (subject to tee closures).

Full details of the scheme are on our website, www.woodfordgolf.co.uk, or from the secretary, on 020-8504-3330, secretary@woodfordgolf.co.uk

Woodford Golf Club - Intermediate Membership Scheme

Woodford Golf Club is launching an intermediate membership scheme.

It is valid for 12 months, and costs £400 (compared to our current £911 for full 7-day membership), payable by cash or cheque on application.

It is open to golfers of any standard (although beginners should consider our beginners scheme first).

It is aimed at visitors and associate members as a step between those categories and full 6 or 7 day membership: golfers who are likely to have the time to play golf regularly and who may be interested in joining a club but possibly with little/no knowledge of what a golf club is like.

You can get a club handicap, but should you choose not to become a full member that handicap would lapse. Handicaps would be given subject to the usual requirement of 3 18-hole cards, signed by a club member. You can play in club competitions as a means of putting in cards for this handicap. On receiving a club handicap you would be eligible to win monthly medals, but not "trophy" competitions. If you already have a CONGU handicap, you would still not be eligible to win trophy competitions.

Anyone joining the scheme will be assigned a "mentor" to introduce you to the club and its members; who would be available as a playing partner/signer of cards for handicap, or if not available would arrange for another member to stand in.

You will have full use of our club facilities, including the bar (you can get a bar card), and access to our good social calendar, and can play golf at any time (subject to tee closures).

What happens when the 12 months expire?

At the end of the 12-month intermediate membership scheme, you can opt to become:

- a full 7- or 6-day member (6-day membership excludes Saturdays);
- an associate member (details of this category are enclosed in our information pack, available from our website);
- or just pay green fees.

Should you opt for full membership, you will pay the appropriate proportion of membership fee for the remainder of that calendar year, less an introductory discount of 1 full and any part month for that remaining period. (In other words, if you were to join in mid-May, you would pay the membership fee for July to December, 5/12 of the annual fee for that 6½ month period). Thereafter, you will also have a discount of £100 on the first full year's membership (6- or 7-day). You will then be eligible for an official handicap and entry into the appropriate club competitions.

Only one period of intermediate membership is available per person. This scheme is not open to past or present members of Woodford Golf Club.
